Tasting Notes

- ▶ With its bright golden hue and rich, ripe nose, the 2009 chardonnay from the K.J. Watson vineyard, near the Niagara River, one of the warmer spots in the peninsula, is a tasty and seductive young wine. With aromas of stonefruit and toasted brioche, it's all stonefruit and ripe orange, with a round and almost sweet mouthfeel. A luscious wine for short-term drinking, and a great match for tasty seafood – think salmon or better yet, lobster.
